

Headingley Library has recently undergone a change in software systems to serve our patrons better.

What does this mean for you?

1. A new “My Account” feature which allows patrons to log in to their library account by clicking on “My Account” on our website at www.headingleylibrary.ca. Log in with your first initial and last name (all lower case with no spaces) and your 7 digit phone number with no spaces. Here you can search our catalogue and place holds on either Headingley Library’s items OR electronic books, magazines & audiobooks through Zinio and Overdrive – all in one place!

You can also view items checked out and holds both from Headingley Library and Overdrive in one location and view any fines owing on your account. Patrons can renew items from home and update their settings to receive due date reminders, overdue notices and hold notifications by email and/or text message. We highly encourage everyone to do this. A guide to this process is attached to this email.

2. Overdrive (ELibraries) will soon undergo an update which makes the site much more user-friendly. For now, continue logging into the site at <https://manitoba.libraryreserve.com> (link is also on our website). IMPORTANT: The way patrons log in to Overdrive has changed! The password will be the same as above (your 7 digit phone number with no spaces or hyphens) but you will now log in using your Headingley Library barcode number instead of a username. Your library number is the 3 or 4 digit number found on your library card. It must be preceded by MHHP in all caps in order to be recognized. If you are unsure of your library number or have lost your card you have three options:
 - a. You can visit the library and have us issue you a new card with a new, scannable card (recommended);

- b. Log into “My Account” on our website by following the instructions above. Once you are logged in, you will be able to see your library number if you click on “Account Preferences” then “Personal Information”. Remember to add the MHHP before logging into Overdrive.
- c. You can simply call or email the library between 9:30 and 8:00 Monday to Friday and 10:30-2:30 Saturday and we can provide you with your number.

If you have any questions or issues, please do not hesitate to email or call us.
